SWORN MEMBERS OF MCSO BECOME CERTIFIED PUBLIC MANAGERS

Freehold: Sheriff Shaun Golden is pleased to announce the graduation of Captain Victor Iannello, Detective Sergeant Tim Baggitt and Sergeant Edna Morasse from the distinguished New Jersey Certified Public Manager Program at Rutgers University's School of Public Affairs and Administration. The ten month class which met one work day per week teaches public servants how to deal with the complex issues of an agency and become more efficient, effective, fair and ethical, as they manage day to day operations within their divisions.

"As public servants, it's vital that challenges are dealt with in the most professional and effective manner," said Sheriff Shaun Golden. "This program does that by providing the core skills on which our participants can grow and build as committed leaders in law enforcement. By attaining this coveted certification, it helps ensure that Monmouth County residents will receive the highest standards of service."

Captain Iannello heads administrative affairs of the Corrections Division, and oversees and leads all aspects of human resources. Detective Sergeant Tim Baggitt runs investigations of the Law Enforcement Division's Criminal Investigation Bureau and is assistant supervisor of internal affairs and Sergeant Edna Morasse is squad sergeant of the Warrant Fugitive Bureau.
